Jamie Heron to Speak Several Times in Tulsa on Friday

A ROOSEVELT ADMIRER

His Talk on "The Great American" Said to Be Inspiring Patriotic Message

Jamie Heron, Scotch orator, will be confronted with a busy day when he reaches Tulsa Friday morning. At 9 o'clock he will address the students of Tulsa university, at 9:40, he is due at the high school, at 12 o'clock he speaks to an open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Tulsa and at 2:30 will be the guest of the city club at a special meeting at Ed Woods cafe.

Letters have been sent by the Chamber of Commerce to the writer of this article charging the "better half" of the household with the responsibility of bringing her husband and her husband and any other guests to the city.

"We want to bring your husband to the Jamie Heron meeting Friday noon, October 27, at Hotel Tulsa. This promises to be the best open meeting of the year and we are very anxious to have a good attendance. Please return the enclosed card or telephone your acceptance to George 436.

"Jamie Heron is a Scotch orator of rare ability and has a message for every Tulsa. At last Friday's meeting one of our directors said, 'I was worth a hundred dollars to me to hear Heron's address at Muskogee this spring.'

"In addition to bringing your husband, you may bring any other guests you care to bring."

"P. S.: Mr. Heron will deliver his 'Roosevelt address' Friday evening to the city club at a 8:30 dinner at Ed Woods cafe. Members of the Chamber of Commerce and their wives are also invited to attend this meeting."

SCOUTS ARE GRATEFUL

Notarials Thanked for Aid in Recent Drive to Add Register and Adding Machine Men Talk

Brief histories of the cash register and the adding machine were furnished the Rotary club at Hotel Tulsa Wednesday noon by F. B. Cope, local sales agent for the National Cash Register company, and R. H. Quinby, local manager for the Burroughs Adding Machine company, these men having been the principal speakers.

Cope related the development of the cash register from an observation of a steam gauge on an ocean liner. Quinby demonstrated the latest Burroughs device, a combination typewriter and adding machine.

Lee Levering, president of the local Boy Scout council, thanked the speakers for their active interest in the recent drive to obtain funds for financing the Boy Scout council for the next 18 months. He announced pledges and cash receipts of $12,265. The budget is $15,000, which he explained, is the least amount on which the scout council can function efficiently.

Dr. H. H. Messinger entertained the club with two vocal selections. It was voted by the membership to enter an attendance contest with a Rotary club in some other city outside of the Fifteenth district about the same size as Tulsa. After the city is selected, the local club will issue a challenge. Such contests are designed to stimulate attendance because of the friendly rivalry they create.

Local club has enjoyed an average attendance of 24.85 per cent in the last three meetings, due in part to a contest between two groups inside the club, each of which embraces half the membership.

Women's Convention At Seneca Falls, N. Y.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A woman's rights convention to discuss problems of the national woman's party, and questions regarded as vital to the progress of women, to be held at Seneca Falls, N. Y., next July, was decided upon by the executive council of the party in session here today. The place and date were fixed to commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the first women's rights convention in this country.

Crutches in the form of a light framework on wheels, permitting considerable liberty of motion, have been invented to help crippled persons regain use of their legs.

Picture of French Heroine Desecrated By Unskilled Hand

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A $5,000 painting of Jeanne d'Arc, by Edward Blynn, an American painter, which reposes as an altar piece in the little chapel of the Jeanne d'Arc home for French girls, has been desecrated. It was learned today when the artist began work of restoring it.

The damage, Blynn said, was an act of "innocent vandalism" probably perpetrated while a house painter who brought with unskilled hand but sincere purpose to repaint it to his liking. The face of the peasant girl had been changed to appear scowling and the landscape altered to indicate the approaching storm, while red flowers were painted in the foreground, and sheep, originally painted sheep, were represented with coats of wool, the artist said.

GIRL GETS 20 YEARS

Sentenced for Part Played in Robbery of R. C. Business Firm While Dressed as Man

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—Rosa Darvella, 20 years old, was sentenced in criminal court to the better half of the state penitentiary on conviction of participating in the robbery of Daniel Harris, from whom she was alleged to have taken $1,400. The jury was out about one hour and 45 minutes. She is said to be the first woman to face first degree robbery charges in the criminal court here.

Harris identified her as Mrs. Darvella, who went by the name of Ruth Davis here, by her size, eyes and actions. She was also identified by Mrs. Harris, who was with her husband when the holdup occurred.

Both witnesses said Mrs. Darvella, in man's clothing, and two men entered the office while a check was being made of the contents of the cash drawer. The woman and one of the men "covered" Mrs. Harris with pistols while the other man took the money from Harris, they said.

Mrs. Darvella said she has a 3-year-old child living with her mother in Oklahoma City.

DELAY MAYFIELD SUIT

Texas Supreme Court Takes Under Adversive Injunction Appeal

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 25.—The injunction appeal asking to restrain the secretary of state from certifying Earle B. Mayfield's name as a candidate for United States senatorial office was taken under advisement by the supreme court when hearing on the case was concluded shortly after 5 o'clock today.

The court adjourned without taking action on either the injunction appeal or the motion to stay the Corbin suit.

Arguments on both sides centered around the authority of a private individual to bring an injunction suit against the state official such as the Mayfield suit. Attorneys for the state contended that a private individual does not hold such right, that before such a suit could be brought it must be joined in by a district or county attorney or the state.

Supervise Stock Selling. NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Strict supervision of promotions engaged in by members in an effort to eliminate questionable stock selling schemes and protect the investing public will be made in the future by the officials of the Consolidated Stock exchange, it was announced today.

NAPLES, Oct. 25.—"I take a solemn oath that either the government of the country must be given peacefully to the fascist or we will take it by force," was the statement made by Professor Benito Mussolini, leader of the fascist, prior to leaving Naples at the end of the party's congress held here.

G. W. Martin Takes Berth With Standard Oil Co. of Bolivia

George W. Martin, for several months connected with the Carter Oil company of this city, left last night with Mrs. Martin on the first leg of a journey of several thousand miles which will not terminate until the Martins arrive in far-away Argentina, the United States of South America.

Mr. Martin has taken the position of assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil company of Bolivia and will be stationed at Buenos Aires. He will have permanent headquarters at the Argentine capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin are anticipating a pleasant trip, despite the length, as this is the ideal season for a journey in the area between here and Buenos Aires. By leaving America at this season of the year they will miss one winter completely, jumping from fall here to spring there.

ROBBERS' TRAIL IS LOST

Posses From Three Counties Fail to Find Tulsa Bank Bandits

BARTLESVILLE, Oct. 25.—Posses from Washington, Nowata and Rogers counties left Bartlesville at sunrise this morning to scour the Osage hills in the vicinity of Okesa, 14 miles southwest of here, in an attempt to find the three men who held up and robbed the Tulsa State bank Tuesday morning. More than $1,600 in cash and escaped on the road west of that town. The officers returned to the city shortly after noon today and reported that they had found no trace of the bandits.

According to the most reliable reports, the authorities say, the bandits were last seen as they drove west on the road through the Rosalia tank farm, 14 miles south of here, about noon Tuesday.

It has been reported here for three months that a band of bank robbers, some of whom are fugitives from justice, lurked in the vicinity of Okesa.

ADVOCATES NEW METHODS

Big Business Principles Should Be Applied to School Systems

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Application of the principles of "big business" to the public school system of the United States was advocated today by Henry J. Gideon of Philadelphia in an address at the opening business session of the twelfth annual convention of the national league of compulsory education officials, which opened here last night.

Until communities recognize that their school system is one of the foundations of their success in every line of endeavor, Mr. Gideon said, there can never be the proper respect for education inculcated in the minds of the parents of the city, and the difficulties in bringing the children of the community are thereby increased.

Germany Threatens to Go Broke. ## FAKE T. B. CURE IS MADE PUBLIC

S. F. Association Probes Chaulmoogra Oil; Repudiates Claim

SAN FRANCISCO.—Although of vast benefit in the treatment of leprosy, an official warning to the public against alleged cures for tuberculosis based on chaulmoogra oil and its derivatives comes from the San Francisco Tuberculosis association.

The warning was predicated on the results of experiments with chaulmoogra oil in the treatment of tuberculosis conducted by Dr. Ernest L. Walker, a member of the executive council of the San Francisco Tuberculosis association and tropical professor of medicine at the University of California medical school. The research was aided by grants from the National, California and San Francisco Tuberculosis associations.

Good for Leprosy

Doctor Walker, in his investigations, discovered two derivatives which he declared "have proved by animal tests and use on human patients to be superior, from the point of view of relative freedom from painful and injurious reactions, to any derivatives hitherto employed, for leprosy." He expressed the belief that their use will constitute a distinct advance in the treatment of leprosy.

From his experiments, however, Doctor Walker concluded that chaulmoogra oil and its derivatives are apparently of no value in the treatment of tuberculosis, officials of the San Francisco Tuberculosis association.

Because many of the manifestations of leprosy are similar to those of tuberculosis, they added, a large number of alleged cures for tuberculosis, based on the chaulmoogra compounds, are being put on the market.

The success of the compounds in the treatment of leprosy has led the promoters of this practice to believe that they could foist their products upon the public as "cures" for tuberculosis, the officials declared. It is against these products that the Tuberculosis association cautions the public to be on its guard.

Many Tests Made. Doctor Walker's experiments were made with a large number of animals and were supplemented by the treatment of a limited number of human leprosy and tuberculosis patients. In commenting upon the results of the experiments, Doctor Walker said:

"The treatment of a large number of animals experimentally infected with tuberculosis with every suitable derivative of chaulmoogra oil, administered in the largest tolerated doses, has failed to produce any appreciable effect on the course and fatal outcome of the disease. Inoculation tests on fresh animals have shown that in no case were the tubercle bacilli killed in the bodies of the treated animals."

"These animal experiments are supported in general by the results obtained in the treatment of a limited number of tuberculosis patients with some of these derivatives."

OIL MAN IS KILLED

J. L. Hefflin, Superintendent of Southern Oil Company at Yale Mistaken for Bandit

YALE, Oct. 25.—J. L. Hefflin, superintendent of the Southern Oil Corporation and stationed here, was instantly killed near Quay about 8 o'clock tonight by a man thought to be E. W. Hewing. About 5 o'clock a man who gave his name as Hewing reported to the police here that he had been halted by a gang of hijackers near Quay and had killed one of them. Hewing, the police have learned, left town almost immediately after making the report.

Some time after Hewing reported he had killed a hijacker, two other employees of the oil corporation who were with Hefflin when he was killed reported that an unidentified man had killed Hefflin. According to these two women, they an Hefflin had left shortly before a o'clock and not far from the town their car stalled. Hefflin, with a flashlight in his hand, had started for a farm house about two hundred yards away when he was killed. He met a man and woman his two companions say, when less than fifty yards from stalled car. The fat opened fire with a revolver and fled down the road. A few minutes later a car some distance down the road sped away.

Local police officials have notified all surrounding towns to be on the lookout for Hewing who is said to be traveling in a Buick roadster. It is not known whether the woman in with him, Hewing is described as a man about 35 years old, six feet tall, black hair, blue eyes and slightly stooped.

ADJUST DIFFERENCES

No Conflicting Interests in American Legion—Immediate Action on All Its Policies

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25.—Talk of inside politics and conflicting interests in the American Legion has been completely smoothed by the convention in New Orleans and the legion has proved its complete unity of purpose and action. Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant, said on his return here today that the convention was the greatest ever held in point of spirit shown, the definition of policies and the promises of immediate straight from the shoulder action on the policies adopted.

The entire absence of sectional feeling was one of the most gratifying features of the convention, according to Mr. Bolles. An instance of sectional harmony, he said, was the election of Alvin M. Gwiley, a southern man, by virtue of a great northern vote.

PUTS BLAME ON JAPS

Russian Soviet Government Says White Guards and Japanese Looting Vladivostok District

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—Charges that Vladivostok is being looted by the white guards of the Primir government with the assistance of Japanese officers and soldiers are made in a joint note sent to Japan by the soviet government and the far eastern republic.

The note also protests against the enforced delay in the occupation of the city by far eastern forces, contending that this is due to the attitude of the Japanese which has given the white guards an opportunity to rob the city by evacuating goods to foreign ports. The communication placed all responsibility for relations and losses on the Japanese.

Admiral Lord Beatty Injured in Accident

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Admiral Lord Beatty was in a painful condition today following a motor car accident last Saturday when it was considered that his injuries were slight. The admiral was returning from a shoot near Dorking when, in an attempt to avoid a bicyclist, his motor car ran into a ditch. He was severely shaken though it is understood no bones were broken. He still is confined to his bed, however.

There are 5,724 manufacturing plants in Texas, employing 107,531 people.

Colonel Thompson is appealing for support upon promises of a "business administration" of state affairs and also upon the duty, as he sees it, of the president's state upholding his hands. His opponent, who served eight years as state auditor, is making a campaign almost wholly upon state issues.

The "wet" and "dry" issue is involved, through the endorsement of the republican candidates for senator and governor by the Anti-Saloon league, and because a constitutional amendment to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and light wines will be voted upon at the same time. Proponents of this amendment largely are looking behind the democratic candidates, and Senator Pomerene has received the endorsement of the association opposed to the prohibition amendment.

Both parties, according to reports, are suffering from a lack of campaign funds.

More Democrats in House

Democratic leaders assert that the next Ohio delegation in the lower house of congress will contain at least 10 and perhaps 12 democrats, as compared with the present solidly republican representation, the first ever chosen in the history of the state. Democrats are grading success and governor by the number of their congressional representatives in the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Twenty-first districts. Interest in these races, however, centers in the Third, which includes the home of former Governor James M. Cox, and the Eleventh, which includes Marion, the town of President Harding. The fight in both districts is complicated by the "wet" and "dry" issue. Congressmen Roy Fitzgerald of the Third and Clint Cole of the Eleventh are having the support of the Anti-Saloon league against former Congressman Warren G. Harding and H. E. Hartman, the democratic nominees.

G. O. P. TO FACE TESTS IN OHIO

Close Race Between Pomerene and Fess, Makes Campaign Hot

CLEVELAND.—"Straws," says an old proverb, "show the way the wind blows," and if the proverb holds good as to straw votes the political contest in Ohio, which culminates in the election November 7, will be hard fought, with the ultimate decision known only when the vote from the last outlying precinct has been counted.

Straw votes are being taken by leading newspapers in the state on the race of Senator Altes Pomerene, democrat, seeking a third term in the senate, and Congressman Simon D. Fess, one of the leaders in the lower house and until recently chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee. A. V. Donahay, former state auditor, and Colonel Carant A. Thompson are contesting for the governorship.

National State Issues Up

The campaign is being fought out on both national and state issues. Senator Pomerene is attacking the record made by congress and especially the Fourday-McCumber tariff, while Congressman Fess wholeheartedly defends the record made by his party colleagues and himself, declaring no congress has a better record.

Colonel Thompson is appealing for support upon promises of a "business administration" of state affairs and also upon the duty, as he sees it, of the president's state upholding his hands. His opponent, who served eight years as state auditor, is making a campaign almost wholly upon state issues.
